

OITDA/TP 02/BW (2018 Ed. 4)

Optical fiber distribution system for apartment houses in FTTH

Summary

Regarding the optical wiring system for using the FTTH service in a detached house or a single apartment house, laying of optical cables using quartz optical fiber, connection thereof, installation, maintenance / management, testing and performance of those constituent articles standards and indicators are described.

In this paper, the results of the original questionnaire survey on the fiber distribution system for buildings are added.