Summary
This technical paper refers to the basic configuration and construction method of an optical wiring system using plastic optical fibers for single-family houses and small apartment houses.